Leadership You Can Count On

Greg Mulroberts is relentless in his vision to position WestPoint as a market leader, fostering an environment where financial professionals thrive with the right guidance, resources, and support.

Josh Plank joined WestPoint after college and has been integral to its growth, with his dedication continuing to strengthen the firm's future.

Paul Tokarz has built a proven record of helping clients achieve financial goals with care and consistency. His client-first focus has expanded into leadership, supporting both the Chicago offices and the firm overall.

Large-Scale Strength, Personalized Service

When you work with WestPoint, you get the power of an entire team – including 450 professionals supported by a diverse leadership team who are experts in investments, insurance, advanced planning, operational excellence, marketing, training, and so much more.

Meet our Executive Vice President

Matt Milburn provides strategic direction, vision, and leadership across the organization, guiding teams toward long-term success. He plays a pivotal role in aligning priorities and fostering collaboration, while also facilitating leadership meetings to ensure clear focus, accountability, and momentum.

Meet our Recruiting, Development, & Training Teams

Our recruiters play a key role in helping you grow your practice by identifying and attracting talented individuals who align with your vision. We help you build a stronger team, scale your business, and expand your impact.

Led by Tracy Allen
Chief Selection & Development Officer

Meet our Financial Planning Team

Our goal is to impact advisor productivity by providing case design, access to intellectual capital, and comprehensive risk management solutions, and in-person meeting support.

Led by Dan Bullock, Chief of Financial Planning

Meet our Marketing Team

We offer personalized marketing support for financial professionals, including strategic planning, event execution, creative services, sales materials, client experiences, and one-on-one guidance.

Led by Nikki Palfic, Chief Marketing Officer

Meet our Teaming & Succession Planning Team

Our teaming platform includes end-to-end development, compensation planning, online tools, and regional team workshops. We facilitate business evaluation and succession planning.

Led by Matt Milburn, Executive Vice President & Angie Chovanec,
Director of Training & Talent Services

Meet our Operations, Information Systems, & New Business Teams

We deliver operational excellence through fast, accurate new business processing, dedicated advisor services, and technology integration that drives efficiency, growth, and lasting client relationships.

Led by Marianne Speer, Chief Operations Officer

Meet our Finance Team

Through accurate compensation and strategic support, our finance team provides financial professionals with the tools to grow their practice and realize the full value of the Career Contract.

Led by Michael Hutchinson, Chief Financial Officer

Meet our Compliance Team

Taking a truly collaborative approach, we partner with our advisors to identify risks, provide advice and training, and establish standards and controls.

Led by Michael Windisch, Chief Compliance Officer

"We care deeply about the people who work here, and they care about us. I grew up in a family business, so we look at this firm as a family."

Greg Mulroberts, Lead Managing Partner

Founder's story

Top Vineskills founder, Vineskills is helping you bring the power of Vineskills. After a career in the tech space and a decade in non-profit, they got his start with Vineskills by helping a friend, Roger Smith, at Vineskills. He had a vision to work exclusively with Vineskills, allowing us to focus our expertise in the quality control field. Vineskills has been successful in the past, and we have chosen to work exclusively with Vineskills, allowing us to focus our expertise in the quality control field. Vineskills is a high-performing team focused on results, not excuses. Vineskills started an Employee Stock Ownership Program (ESOP) in 2022 as a long-term strategy to grow an investment team with strong engagement.

We inspire students to dream big.

Teenagers face a world full of no. College Prep 360 starts by saying yes to their dreams. Then, we give them the roadmap to create a new reality.

We ground students in purpose by helping them take meaningful action to make a difference in the world. This becomes the bedrock of the application. Our students own their accomplishments and blow everyone's minds — including college admissions officers.

Our process is transformational and the results speak for themselves.

Team

Our counselors are former admissions officers from colleges like Stanford, Yale, Dartmouth, Duke, Penn, Princeton, Brown, Cornell, and more.

Our essay coaches are not only award-winning and best selling authors, they are also outstanding educators. They work with students to write applications that inspire the reader — and that's why they get in!

WHY WE LIKE IT

Their headshots use a closer, more intimate framing paired with a skyline background. The city setting adds depth and visual context, while the close-up composition keeps the focus on each individual.

WHY WE LIKE IT

Their team page uses black-and-white headshots against a deep green site background, creating a striking visual contrast. The monochromatic portraits feel refined and understated, while the dark green backdrop ties the photography seamlessly into the overall brand aesthetic.

WHY WE LIKE IT

Their headshots use an asymmetrical shape that gives each portrait a more dynamic, contemporary feel. The top of each person's head extends beyond the background shape, creating a subtle layered effect that adds depth and visual interest to the team page.

WHY WE LIKE IT

Their black-and-white headshots create a strong contrast against the bold red typography used throughout the website. The monochromatic photography keeps the portraits understated, while the red accents add energy and make the overall presentation feel distinctive.
